ENGLAND GIVES PERSHING BIG WELCOME

STATION IS THROGGED BY DENSE CROWD

Guard of Honor, Minister of War and General Haig Greet Americans
COMMANDER WILL BE KING GEORGE'S GUEST
Will Be Given Sword of Honor and Welcome on Friday Morning

LONDON, July 15.—General Pershing and his staff arrived here from Dover at 12:38 p. m.
Dense crowds blocked the Victoria station when the special train carrying General Pershing arrived. A guard of honor composed of Welsh guards, General Fielding, in command of the London district; War Minister Lord Churchill; representatives of Field Marshall Haig, and the chief of the general staff, formed part of the British welcoming contingent. Practically all of the American colony in London joined in the greeting.
As Pershing's train pulled into the royal station the colors were dipped and the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." General Pershing stood at salute at the door of the railway carriage.
After Churchill had shaken hands with the American leader, numerous presentations followed and Pershing inspected the guard of honor. Three royal carriages conveyed Pershing and his staff from the station through Grosvenor Gardens, past Buckingham Palace, through Marlborough Gate and Pall Mall to the Carlton Hotel, where the American officers will make their headquarters.
Dine at Embassy
General Pershing will engage in a round of calls this afternoon, and tonight will dine at the American embassy.
General Pershing will be entertained at luncheon tomorrow by the American luncheon club. In the afternoon he will attend the king's garden party and in the evening he will be the guest at a dinner given by British officials at the Carlton hotel.
Plans for Thursday include luncheon with King George at Buckingham Palace and a reception in parliament in the afternoon with War Minister Churchill as host.
After reviewing American troops Friday morning at the military investiture of American and British officers at Hyde Park, General Pershing will proceed to Guild Hall, where he will be accorded a civic welcome and presented with a sword of honor. He will have luncheon with the lord mayor of London and will dine in the evening in the House of Commons with War Minister Churchill presiding.
General Pershing's Party Gets Noisy Dover Welcome
DOVER, England, July 15.—General Pershing arrived here on a destroyer at 10:30 o'clock this morning. He will visit several days in London and participate in the peace celebration Saturday.
With British warships in the harbor saluting and naval and military bands playing "The Star Spangled Banner," General Pershing was received with a vociferous greeting when his vessel entered port.
General Sir Henry S. Horn was at the head of the military contingent which welcomed him. As he alighted from the destroyer a guard of honor of Royal Marines was drawn up at the quay.

7 Americans Killed When Mine Caught in Net Sinks U.S. Trawler Off England

WASHINGTON, July 15.—One officer and six men of the United States trawler Richard Buckley were killed when their ship was sunk by a mine they were trying to sweep up in the North Sea, off the coast of England, Saturday, Admiral Krapp at London reported to the navy department today.
Two officers were slightly injured but were saved with the 16 other men comprising the crew.
The dead were:
Commander Frank R. King.
Engineman Floyd E. Harmen, Roan, Indiana.
Antimo Perfidio, cook, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Homer Purdue, seaman, second class, Washington Court House, Ohio.
George E. Paul Rezac, fireman, Watertown, Minn.
George Mallie, Knoblich, Ky.
Lieut. Fred G. Keyes, executive officer, and Lieut. Walter I. Sharon were slightly injured. The trawler was sweeping up its mine net when a mine was discovered entangled in it. The crew started to let out the net again, but the mine exploded a few feet clear of the stern. The trawler sank seven minutes later.
Commander King and the six men who died with him were believed to have been carried down with the ship. One body, that of Perfidio, the cook, has been recovered and is being taken ashore. It will be sent later to the United States.
King, the report stated, remained on the bridge to see that all the crew were saved and went down with his ship. His home address is 488 Burwell ave., Bremerton, Wash.

Blockade Whipped Germany Says Admiral Von Scheer

LONDON, July 15.—The Allied blockade was the cause of Germany's defeat, Admiral von Scheer, former German fleet commander, in an interview given the Daily Chronicle's Weimar correspondent.
"As everybody warned," von Scheer said, "the blockade triumphed over the U-boat campaign."
Von Scheer claimed a German victory in the battle of Jutland, pointing out his losses in material and men were a third of those suffered by the British. The German ships were smaller and slower and outpointed in

Unrestricted Trade With Germany Is Begun Today

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Practically unrestricted trade with Germany was begun today by American exporters for the first time in two years.
In an order effective today the war trade section of the state department issued a blanket license permitting communication and trade with Germany under the trading with the enemy act in all lines but dyestuffs, chemicals and potash.
Exporters have been waiting months for the lifting of the ban on trade with Germany. Under the order they do not need individual licenses but may export under the same conditions as they did before the war—by filing declarations with the customs collector at the port of exit from the United States.

San Bernardino Telephone Service is Halted Again

SAN BERNARDINO, July 15.—San Bernardino was again without telephone service today.
More than a week ago the Union Home Telephone Company operating the system here, made a settlement with its employees who returned to work. At a union meeting last night the company was charged with bad faith in the alleged discharge of the

Interior Freight May Be Held by Seamen's Strike

NEW YORK, July 15.—Possibility of an embargo railway freight from interior points because of the situation created by the season's strike, was foreseen in shipping circles here today.
Spread of the strike to the Great Lakes, as well as along the Atlantic coast, was also considered possible because of the refusal of the United States shipping board and private steamship owners to grant the demands of the firemen, water tenders and oilers.
A joint meeting of the American Steamship Association, members of the shipping board, the Masters, Mates and Pilots' union and the Marine Benefit Association was to be held today in an attempt to reach some agreement.
Unless a settlement is reached at this meeting it is believed a general strike may be called, increasing the number of ships now tied up by the strike of the Marine Firemen, Water Tenders and Oilers' Union.
Following the refusal of the shipping board to grant in full the demands of the strikers, a number of vessels operated by the United States shipping board were tied up.
Officials of the seamen's union refused to estimate the number of men out, but Oscar Carlson, secretary of the firemen's union, said more than 15,000 were on strike and more were quitting as ships arrived.
Pickets were patrolling the water front and a number of coastwise vessels scheduled to sail Saturday and yesterday were still at their docks. It was said by union officials that more than 400 vessels are now held in port.
MOTHERS ALSO GRADUATE
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 15.—Two Oklahoma mothers were graduated from the Central Normal School this spring in the same class with their children. One had three daughters as classmates and the other stood between her two sons when she received her diploma.
LARGE YIELD OF CABBAGE
EMPORIA, Kan., July 15.—Farmers and gardeners who have seen the cabbage patch of Jason Austin's garden are unanimous in giving Austin the title of Lyon County Cabbage King. Austin, a hotel proprietor, has grown 1200 pounds of cabbage on a patch of ground containing nearly 2000 square feet. The cabbages average three pounds each, and are free from insects.

CABINET MEN AND WILSON WILL FIX POLICIES

Attorney General to Discuss Prohibition Before the Conference Opens
SITUATION IN MEXICO IS CAUSING CONCERN
Government Participation In Reconstructing Europe To Be Discussed

WASHINGTON, July 15.—President Wilson today called a meeting of his cabinet for this afternoon.
Attorney General Palmer was to see the president in advance of the general meeting of the cabinet. He was expected to discuss the appointment of federal judges in St. Louis, Atlanta and Cincinnati.
Palmer may also talk to the president about prohibition, since the president is guided by Palmer's interpretation of the law.
The president has kept in close touch with the executive arms of the government during his absence, but many questions have developed which department heads wish to bring to his attention.
The policy to follow with regard to government-owned homes, built during the war in several cities, was to be decided. It was thought possible their sale to individuals would be authorized by the President.
The situation in Mexico is causing concern and this may be discussed. Carranza's attitude toward foreign oil companies has brought many complaints to the State Department and millions of dollars of French, British and American claims are being pressed for collection.
Another policy which will soon be delivered is to what extent the Federal government will participate in reconstruction of Europe. The question is whether the government should finance operations or whether private banking houses should do so. Secretary Glass was expected to bring this up for consideration.
Secretary Wilson of the Labor Department was expected to discuss the calling of an industrial conference of representatives of capital and labor to frame policies regarding strikes and lockouts. This conference is urged by the war labor board.

MILLERS ORGANIZE TO REDUCE FLOUR PRICES

CHICAGO, July 15.—A new organization, designed to reduce the price of flour stuffs in the United States was in existence here today, the result of an all day session yesterday of millers from all parts of the country.
The organization, the millers' export association, was formed, according to James F. Bell, vice president of the Washburn-Crosby company, to deal with foreign buyers, who are already organized. More than 300 millers, some of them among the country's largest flour makers, will have membership in the association, Bell said.
RATE INCREASE ASKED BY PACIFIC ELECTRIC
SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Holding that it has to meet the same terminal and transportation costs as the railroad administration lines, the Pacific Electric Company, operating 608 miles of electrical railroad in Southern California, today asked the State Railroad Commission to authorize an increase of 4 1/2 cents per 100 pounds for transporting petroleum and petroleum products. This will place its rate even with that charged by the steam lines.

Angry Prediction Comes True Gets Too Much Attention Returns to Studio as Star

Girl Dismissed For Getting In Limelight Makes Good on Threat

FORT LEE, N. J., July 15.—Miss Dorothy Green, pretty and talented, made an angry prediction two years ago here and made it good recently.
In 1917 Miss Green was working as hard as she knew how on the extra list of movie actresses to command the attention of the directors to her looks and ability. Every time she got a chance when engaged as an extra girl she shoved some of the other girls aside and managed numerous times to get in the front row of the extras and likewise that much closer to the business end of the camera.
She attracted attention all right. Yes, indeed, she attracted so much of it from the director that he told her to "be on her way."
"Yes, I'll go, all right," flashed the angry girl, "but I'll come back some day and when I do it will be as a star."
The director grinned and proceeded to forget all about it.
Just recently a new star appeared at the studio and reported to the director. After a bit of a talk the girl said: "You don't remember me, do you? Well, I'm the girl you fired two years ago. I told you I was coming back as a star, and here I am."

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, July 15.—The lemon market dropped $1 today and orange prices 15 cents as a result of heavy receipts. Arrivals in New York were 22 cars of oranges, averaging from $2 to $7 a crate, with lemons from 70 cents to $4.75.
HARRISBURG, Pa., July 15.—Gov. Sproul today refused to grant the extradition asked by New York state for the return of Harry K. Thaw.
BERLIN, July 15.—A small crowd of Germans gathered before the Y. M. C. A. here today, threatening Americans who were attending an entertainment. Trouble was averted without any violence.
PITTSBURG, July 15.—The sale of beer containing more than 1.2 of one per cent alcohol is in violation of the war time prohibition law, Judge Thompson ruled in the United States district court today.

PRESIDENT TO REFUSE SENATORS' DEMANDS

Johnson Resolution Asking For Confidential Data Is Adopted
SENSATION CREATED BY NORRIS' ADDRESS
Exchange of Letters Shows England and Japan After German Islands

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The senate fight over the League of Nations and the peace treaty increased in bitterness today and was hotly waged. Senator Norris attacked the Shantung settlement and a direct break between President Wilson and the senate was predicted by many senators.
They expected this to come over the question of giving the senate the record of secret deliberations of the peace conference. Developments included:
Passage by the foreign relations committee of the Johnson resolution requesting transmission of all confidential data regarding the League of Nations debate and negotiations at Paris.
Disclosures to the Senate by Senator Norris of correspondence between Japan and the Allies pledging the latter to aid in the dismemberment of China.
Virtual announcement that President Wilson is unwilling to submit to examination by the Foreign Relations committee at the capital and if the committee wishes to question him it must go to the White House.
Although the Johnson resolution passed unanimously, Democratic senators said they expect President Wilson to decline to give the information asked for.
Norris Creates Sensation
Senator Norris in a speech in which he denounced the Shantung settlement as unjust and as a source of future wars, created a sensation by reading voluminous correspondence particularly between Japan and France and England.
One exchange of letter included in this correspondence pledged England to support Japan's claims to Shantung and to the German islands north of the equator. In return Japan promised to support England's claims to the German islands south of the equator.
Foreseeing complete victory for President Wilson in the Senate, some League of Nations opponents today were discussing a plan to make withdrawal from the league by the United States an issue in the 1920 campaign.
The proposal was nebulous. No one was openly sponsoring it. Those who favored it will be ready to announce it, however, the moment they think it will receive party support.
Senators who have talked this idea over, point out that two years is required for actual withdrawal, and the issue in the election would be the giving of notice to the league of this country's intention to withdraw, which would get us out in 1923.
By that time, these senators say, the United States will have done its share towards stabilizing Europe and will have a right to resume its individual nationalistic policy.
GULF PORT SHIPPING NOW AT STANDSTILL
GALVESTON, Tex., July 15.—Shipping at Texas gulf ports virtually was at a standstill today due to the strike of the marine firemen, oilers and water tenders' union.

HOUSE TO PASS DRASTIC DRY MEASURE

WASHINGTON, July 15.—With every move to repeal or modify the war-time prohibition act quickly defeated by the dries, indications today were that the drastic prohibition enforcement bill will pass the House in practically the same form it was reported from the committee.
The dries apparently have a safe 3-to-1 majority on any move to modify the stringent provisions.
Efforts of liberals and anti-prohibitionists today were to be directed at decreasing the penalty for violation of the war-time act.
Scores of amendments were waiting. With the wets using parliamentary means to delay consideration of the bill, its passage in the House may be delayed until next week.
Interest in the cloak rooms centers on the plan of Representative Gallivan, (wet), Massachusetts, to force through an amendment compelling every member of Congress to insert in the record the amount of liquor he has stored. Gallivan claimed some members have enough to supply their families and friends for twenty years. He says he will demand a roll call on the amendment.
ASSERTS GERMANY AS REPUBLIC WON'T RISE
BERLIN, July 15.—Germany as a republic will not be able to rise again, Admiral von Tirpitz declares in a book which he will publish soon. The revolution threw away Germany's chance for greatness, he said. He absolved the ex-kaiser of responsibility for the war.
The admiral expressed the belief that the German navy should have been strong enough to obtain a better peace.
Bethmann-Hollweg was blamed with "monopolist control" of the war, von Tirpitz charging that the former chancellor kept the ex-kaiser, himself and the army and navy staff officers away from Berlin.

HARRIS RECAPTURED WHEN AUTO WRECKED

LONG BEACH, Cal., July 15.—Lewis B. Harris, alleged leader of a gang of bank robbers of nationwide reputation, is back in custody today after having escaped from the Los Angeles county jail Sunday morning.

A telephone call to the police station here last night said Harris had been seen on the street. Patrolman Clendenning started in an automobile to find him.

"I'm going home; I live right here," Harris told the officer when overtaken. "Come on and ride then," said the policeman.

Harris rode, but pretty soon told Clendenning he didn't want to go further because his wife might see him and think he had been arrested.

"I'll take you to the police station then, if it's all the same to you," the officer answered.

Harris whipped out a razor and slashed at Clendenning, who let go the wheel of the automobile, and for two blocks they fought while the machine careened from curb to curb, finally hitting a telephone pole and throwing both men to the pavement. Clendenning was up first and had Harris covered with his revolver.

"I guess you know who you've caught," Harris calmly remarked. "Tell them at the county jail I'll be back to see them soon," and he quietly went to the city jail.

CELEBRATE 82ND BIRTHDAY WITH BIG BARBECUE

Relatives, Friends of Hardy Pioneer Gather to Honor "Dad" Peters

Eighty-two years old and "just as young as he used to be," "Dad" Peters, Sunday, was the "big frog in the puddle" when about fifty of his relatives and friends gathered at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. C. Anderson, on the Irvine Ranch, and assisted him in celebrating his birthday anniversary.

It was a happy day for a man who has been farming on the ranch for the past thirty years and after whom was named "Peters Canyon," which runs from the ranch house north towards Orange county park.

"Dad" Peters has been active on the ranch for a great many years, and but recently relinquished the reins of active farming to enjoy a life of ease, earned and merited by the efforts of his younger days.

Surrounded by all of his children, except Joe, who is in navy service, and a number of grandchildren, the honored father and grandfather passed a most happy day—a day that all present hope will be repeated annually for many years to come. Gathering of the family and friends for celebration of his birthday has become an annual affair.

A barbecue was a feature of the celebration. A large calf was bought by a son, Jim Peters, and was killed for the occasion. Fred Avas was chief performer in the preparation of the barbecue, and those who participated in the event have only words of praise for his efficiency.

With real Spanish beans, a la chili, salads, relishes, ice cream and cake and other good things that enter into a feed of this character, the barbecue was one that all enjoyed to the limit. The setting was under a tent shade in the back yard of the Anderson home. Music and conversation were the afternoon entertainment.

The following children and their families were present: James Peters, Jr. and Mrs. L. C. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morris and daughters Rhoda, Olive and Gertrude; Mr. and Mrs. William Whitehead and children, Willie and Gertrude; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peters and children, Margaret, Leona and Frederick.

Other relatives were Mrs. Louisa Hoskins, sister of the late Mrs. "Dad" Peters, and daughters, Miss Annie and Mrs. R. H. Beach, husband and daughters, Winona and Lola, all of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. J. Minzenmeyer of Long Beach.

Particularly pleasing to the honored man was the presence of a number of his old pioneer friends. They were John Pope and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Rozelle, Tom H. Vore, Mrs. E. Rogers, daughter Miss G. Rogers and son, Matt Rogers, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Alfred and son, Russell; Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Cervantes.

Other friends present were Mrs. E. J. Praetien and Mrs. C. O'Neill of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Morris and daughters Laura and Jean; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thompson of Oceanside; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Waller and children, William, Jr., Vivian and Ula; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth and sons Milo and Dwight; Mr. W. H. Whitehead and daughter, Kate; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Avas and daughters, Gertrude and Margaret; G. B. Roberts; Misses Senida Cervantes, Addie Cervantes, Reduenda Cervantes; Martin Becker, Cleofos Romero, Leon T. Mall, Bud Calvert, Tom McCabe, Florence Schmidt and Florence Calvert.

The announcement in Gilbert's ad today is of vital interest to every woman. The low prices of the waists offered are indeed unusual, and they will unquestionably be bought up immediately. Corsets and white summer skirts are also offered at low prices. See the advertisement.

AMUSEMENTS

Wanda Hawley in "You're Fired"

Wanda Hawley, an exquisite little actress of the blond type, appears as the leading woman for Wallace Reid in his latest Paramount picture "You're Fired," adapted by Clara Kennedy from O. Henry's story "The Halberdier," which will be shown at the West End theatre tonight and tomorrow.

Miss Hawley will be remembered for her fine acting in C. B. De Mille's famous Arctcraft special, "We Can't Have Everything," and also for her rendition of an important part in the same producer's latest film, "For Better, For Worse." These are naming but a few of the pictures in which she has appeared. She has a delightful role in "You're Fired!"

This picture is certain to be a charming entertainment. James Cruze directed the production and it is said to be staged in the most sumptuous style. The support generally is of the highest class.

SEN. UNDERWOOD WON'T FIGHT PEACE TREATY

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Senator Underwood of Alabama today set at rest reports that he might vote for reservation in the peace treaty. In a speech on the League of Nations Underwood said:

"I have reached the conclusion that as a nation we will be better off in the world's affairs by accepting the treaty than to destroy all opportunity for establishment of a world's tribunal of peace by the rejection of the treaty at this time.

"I shall therefore cast my vote against all amendments proposed to the treaty that may delay its ratification and send it back to Paris for further delay and deliberations."

WALTER L. MOORE DISPOSES OF BUSINESS

Nicholls-Loomis Co. Succeeds to Established Hay, Grain and Feed Enterprise

Closing an active business career of twenty-eight years, Walter L. Moore has only one job to attend to and he declares that no one can rob him of that. That job is fishing.

Moore has sold his mill and feed business to the Nicholls-Loomis company of Los Angeles and the new owners are now in full possession of the business. Geo. W. Short, of El Modena, who has been with the company for several years, has been placed in charge of the local business, and will move his family here in the near future.

The Nicholls-Loomis company is one of the big hay, grain and feed operating concerns of Southern California, and the firm is well known in farming and business circles in the county.

Acquisition of the business here will place it in position to enlarge its field of endeavor in Orange county, and it will be out to deal with the growers and purchasing public on a fair and square basis. Southern California connections place it in position to handle a large volume of business to the very best advantage.

Adrian McCain, who recently returned from overseas service, will be with the firm and will take care of the outside work, buying and selling for the firm. McCain is well acquainted with the district and his activities in the past particularly equip him for the position he has assumed.

Walter Moore first entered business with his father some twenty-eight years ago, the enterprise being started in a small way and expanding with the city and the business developed. He succeeded to the business at the time of his father's death, and since that time has been conducting it under his own name.

Success has crowned his efforts and where the business grind has been his daily procedure in the past, in the future he will devote himself to a life of ease—with fishing as his one big sport.

HOLD BACK FOR VISITS MOTHER OF BUNKIE ON TROOP TRAIN

North Main Street Residents Want That Question Determined

A good many residents of North Main street are not ready to go further with plans for paving that street or for widening it or for placing ornamental lights upon it until the question of whether or not the Pacific Electric tracks are to remain upon it.

Recently a meeting of property owners of the street was held, and at that meeting Dr. C. D. Ball, who was chairman of the meeting, was authorized to appoint four committees, one on widening, one on paving, one on ornamental lights and one on the removal of the P. E. tracks. Dr. Ball said today that he expects to announce those committees by the end of the week. These committees are to make reports on estimates and upon the wishes of the property owners.

"A good many people seem to want the question of the P. E. tracks decided first," said he.

That question is of importance for the reason that many believe that with the tracks gone, the street may prove wide enough to meet the desires of some of those who now want it widened, and because the removal of the tracks and abandonment of the franchises will mean that the city, district or property owners, and not the P. E., will pay for the strip down the center of the street.

"Personally," said Dr. Ball, "I am strongly in favor of widening the street by the removal of the curb five feet each way, and let the property owner adjust his property accordingly. If he wants to keep a narrow sidewalk, let him keep it. I have asked a contractor to give me an estimate upon the cost of constructing an archway recess along the Main street side of my building at the southwest corner of Sixth and Main streets."

Harry Suits, Who Rode Across Continent With Stamey Elliott Here Sunday

Sunday Harry Suits of Riverside, who bunked with Stamey Elliott as the two were crossing from Camp Kearny to New York on their way to France over a year ago, visited Stamey Elliott's mother of West Chestnut street.

Stamey Elliott died of wounds received while in the midst of hard fighting in France. He was advancing under heavy fire when he was struck with machine gun bullets, and he died soon afterward.

At Camp Kearny he was a member of Co. L, 160th, and Harry Suits was a member of Co. M, 160th, of Riverside. They were designated to go overseas with the first contingent of the 160th, and were assigned to regiments that had been in action to fill vacancies caused by casualties. It so happened that Elliott and Suits got the same berth, and in the ride across the continent they became well acquainted.

They were assigned to different regiments. Stamey died of wounds; Harry went over the top twice before he was gassed and was sent to a hospital. He had no sooner gotten out of the hospital than he was taken with the flu, and that illness kept him out of further participation in the fighting.

He was here Sunday with his mother, Mrs. G. W. Suits, and grandfather, H. B. Bulkeley, all of Riverside, on a visit with Sherman Bulkeley of the Gem Market. Sherman Bulkeley is a brother of Mrs. Suits and a son of H. B. Bulkeley. While here Harry Suits called upon Stamey's mother to express to her his deep regret concerning the fate that came to his former bunkie.

MANY ATTENDING CONVENTION OF HIBERNIANS

Ten Thousand Visitors and Delegates Assembled In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—More than 10,000 visitors, including 1000 delegates, have flooded San Francisco for the largest and strongest convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians ever held in America.

Delegates opened the convention this morning by attending mass at St. Mary's Cathedral, where they were addressed by Archbishop Hanna. All assembled later at the Municipal Auditorium, where Mayor Rolph delivered the address of welcome.

Sons and daughters of Erin are expected to come here from all parts of California and adjoining states to get their first glimpse of Eamonn de Valera, president of the Irish Republic. De Valera is at present on his way to this city, but is not expected to arrive before Thursday. He will address the convention on that day. On Sunday he will officiate in the unveiling of the Robert Emmet monument in Golden Gate Park.

The business of the convention will be the formulation of plans for advancing the cause of Ireland's independence. Demands are made that Ireland be entirely separated from England under the "self-determination" clause of President Wilson's fourteen points. Recent congressional action approved of giving a hearing to the Irish cause before the peace conference at Paris.

Simultaneous with the convention of the A. O. H., the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hibernians will also convene.

WAITS 25 YEARS TO MARRY SWEETHEART

PORTLAND, Me., July 15.—After waiting faithfully twenty-six years to regain the favor of the sweetheart of his youth, Ralph Albert Peavey of Dallas, Texas, will marry Mrs. Louise C. Gentner of this city. This is the climax of a romance which began more than a quarter of a century ago.

An estrangement led to breaking their engagement and Mrs. Gentner married Ernest W. Gentner, formerly of Guilford, now of Saco. She secured a divorce recently and consented to an appeal from her first love to become his wife.

Mr. Peavey went to Texas when his matrimonial hopes were crushed. Engaged in business and became wealthy. He is president of the Peavey Rubber Company of that city, director in a bank and identified with other business interests. He never married and declared he never had any inclination to become the husband of any woman other than the girl whom he courted in her native town of Sangerville.

Mrs. Gentner was the daughter of a wealthy woolen manufacturer who died recently.

Mr. Peavey is a native of Bangor. His father invented the cantlog attachment to a handspike, familiarly known to woodsmen and farmers as a "peavey."

The couple will take a wedding trip through Canada and will spend the summer in the summer home Mr. Peavey built several years ago at Northport.

MARINES RIDE HORSES IN FOREIGN SERVICE

During a recent convention held in Salt Lake City the U. S. Marines made their appearance mounted as cavaliers in a parade given in honor of the visiting Rotarians, this of course causing much interest among the people of that city and the question arose, "Do Marines ride horses?"

The sea soldiers explained that while "Horse Marines" are a novelty in this country that their comrades who are in Peking, China, have marine mounted infantry and in Haiti during the Haytian and Dominican campaigns the Marines have found horses to be useful, so they organized troops and squadrons of mounted infantry and these "Horse Marines" are now busy chasing the elusive bandit in Haiti.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.—Adv.

WOMEN HELPING HARVEST WHEAT IN KANSAS

Some Work In Fields While Others Do Their Bit In the Kitchen

TOPEKA, Kan., July 15.—Women are playing a decidedly important part in harvesting Kansas' 218,000,000-bushel record-breaking wheat crop. Harvest is on in full blast in all parts of the state, with the front line steadily moving northward.

Women are doing their bit in the field as well as over the kitchen stoves. On every farm the women cook the meals which the harvesters eat, and it is some job with the thermometer ranging between 90 and 100 degrees.

Women, however, have always done that during harvest time, but this year there are many of them who are going into the wheat fields, attracted by the high wages paid, or are helping in getting harvesters for the farmers.

Champion of State Miss Pearl Sackett of Pittsfield, Mo., is the champion woman harvester in Kansas. She does as much work as the most competent man in the field, and enjoys it. She doesn't want to be bothered with the hair, so she had it cut short. She wears a man's fedora hat. Miss Sackett started helping in the harvest fields on the farm of her brother, H. H. Fox, of Spiro, Okla. She intends to follow the harvest north of Canada.

H. A. Pickett of Arkansas City, Kans., is the labor "bureau" for the Southern Kansas wheat belt. It is his job to get harvesters for the farmers in his district and get them out to the farms. Pickett has an excellent assistant in his 18-year-old daughter, Vera Dorothea Pickett. Miss Pickett has hauled more than 100 hands to the harvest fields, and before the season is over expects to haul that many more. She is probably the only young woman harvest employment helper in the state.

They Lead the Workers Miss Pickett was the honor graduate from the Arkansas City high school this year. Next year she will attend the Ward-Belmont school at Nashville, Tenn., an exclusive school for young women.

There are scores of other women harvest hands who are daily demonstrating that they can shock the golden grain as well as men. They draw the same wages as the men and are welcomed by the Kansas farmers. It is declared the women harvesters are more careful in the way they shock grain than the men and that they clean up better after the machines. A woman in a harvest gang tends to keep the men going strong, because they hate to have a woman outwork them. The woman shirker has yet to be found in the harvest fields, it is declared.

Scores of applications have been received throughout the state from women who want to serve as cooks for harvest gangs. Women who have charge of the kitchens in several college dormitories are spending their summers in the wheat belt and making all kinds of money at it.

LONG NOSE 'N' FINGER BILLIARDS EXHIBITION

Professor Lewis of New York, champion finger billiardist of the world, is in Santa Ana, and is slated to give an exhibition of his art at the Alexandria parlors tomorrow evening at 8:45. Lewis also claims to be the only man in the world playing billiards with his long nose, which will be used as a cue in a two-to-one game with local players and also in fancy shots.

The professor will play a game of 14-2 balke line of 100 points, after which he will play the best local players, 100 points to their 50 oints with his fingers, and will make a run of 300 points in ten minutes. At least he says he will do all this, and there will undoubtedly be quite a crowd on hand to see him try at the Alexandria tomorrow evening.

Officers and Crews of Uncle Sam's Boats Enjoy Visits to County's Harbor

U. S. Submarine chasers No. 307 and 308, which have already visited Newport Harbor several times in the past few weeks, will enter the harbor this evening and will remain overnight, according to a letter from Captain Chauncey Shackford, commanding the U. S. Submarine base at San Pedro.

"We are carrying out some maneuvers this week," Captain Shackford writes to Lew Wallace of Newport, and in connection with these maneuvers the two submarine chasers Nos. 307 and 308 will anchor in Newport Harbor Tuesday evening, July 15, and will depart the following morning.

The sub-chaser officers and men have made many friends during their several visits to Newport Harbor, and they are always welcomed to Orange county's harbor and given every opportunity to enjoy themselves. Tonight will be no exception, and the crews will take part in the dance and other festivities arranged for tonight.

LIMA BEAN TO TURN OUT 50 PER CENT

Oxnard Man Says Output This Year Will Be Far Short of Normal

There is no question but that the lima bean crop of this state is going to fall short of normal. E. O. Essig, secretary of the Lima Bean Selling Agency, which was organized to handle the hold-over limas, has issued a statement that in his opinion the lima crop now growing will not turn out to be over fifty per cent of a normal crop. That is an estimate for the state.

The Orange county crop is going to be away below normal. It is generally estimated that a normal crop here now would produce 200,000 bags of limas on the dry lands, mostly located on the Irvine ranch, and 200,000 bags on irrigated and damp lands. The irrigated beans are in fine shape, though in some spots the beans did not make a good stand. On the dry lands, weather conditions have been unfavorable, especially coming on top of a shortage of rainfall. In light soils the beans on dry lands have been doing much better than on heavy lands. On the Irvine ranch there will be a large acre-

SQUIRRELS BEAT SHAW TO HIS FRUIT CROP

H. C. Shaw recently became owner of the Jim Shaw mountain ranch in Trabuco. He has not moved there yet to take up his residence. There is an orchard of family fruit on the place, and Shaw went to the ranch Sunday for the purpose of gathering enough apricots and peaches to bring home for a family treat. He reckoned unwisely—without taking into consideration the fact that squirrels abound there in large numbers.

Not an apricot nor peach on the trees! Shaw's first thought was that some culprit had taken advantage of his absence and stolen the fruit. Investigation disclosed the source of disappearance of the fruit.

Cans, in a shed at the rear of the house, filled with pits, told the story. The squirrels had eaten the fruit and were considerate enough to store the shells where the owner might at least have them for firewood.

Italy won't get all she wanted, but she will get all she can handle.

age that will not be worth cutting.

An Oxnard dispatch reads as follows:

"The Lima Bean Selling Agency, which controls practically all of last year's crop on hand, reports through Secretary E. O. Essig that it has thirty cars of limas and thirty cars of baby limas on hand and that they probably will be held over in view of the short crop this year. These beans have nearly all been cleaned and will command higher prices than the nine cents per pound now current. Essig estimates this year's crop at 50 per cent of normal."

USING WAR TAX AS GOUGER TO BE STOPPED

Government Agents to Make Investigation In Southern Counties

Investigations are to be made through agents working under John P. Carter, internal revenue collector, whose office is in Los Angeles, to determine whether or not it is true that any retail dealers have used the necessity of collecting war tax from customers as an excuse for raising the prices of articles other than those upon which a war tax is imposed.

The government is determined to break up the practice of dealers making the war taxes an excuse for "gouging" consumers for extra pennies wherever possible. Its investigators will cover all the territory in Southern California from Bakersfield to San Diego. Special attention will be given to Orange, Riverside, Kern, Santa Barbara and San Bernardino counties.

Our ice cream and fruit sherbets are put up in cartons. Will keep nicely for three-quarters of an hour. Dragon Confectionery.

OUR ALLIANCE WITH ENGLAND

The press is still making miration over the fact that the Fourth of July was celebrated by Englishmen as well as Americans in the principal cities of Great Britain.

Why not? If we had never achieved our independence—if this country had remained a part of the British empire we would probably by this time have removed the British capital and the British parliament to this side of the Atlantic. The most populous town usually captures the county seat. As Lord Dundreary remarked: "The reason that a dog wags his tail is because the dog is bigger than the tail; if it were otherwise, the tail would wag the dog." We have now twice the population of the British Islands; and as for wealth—we loaned Great Britain during the late unpleasantness about two thousand millions of dollars. With the Anglo-American nation on this side of the Atlantic, the steamship lines would have lost the patronage of seafaring American heiresses, seeking titled husbands, for there would have been a choice line of Boston earls and Los Angeles dukes and Santa Ana lords, sufficient to supply the matrimonial market. The coronation of George the Fifth might have taken place in Chicago. Hiram Johnson might have been Duke of California and First Lord of the Treasury, and Woodrow Wilson Marquis of New Jersey; and at London banquets the band, instead of playing "the Roast Beef of Old England," would have played "The Refrigerated Steer of Yankee Doodle."

What American indeed can, without kindling emotion, contemplate our present alliance with the British empire? The soldiers and statesmen, the authors and orators, the scientists and inventors of Britain are ours as well. For us the Black Prince struck the golden lilies down, and Rupert rode to conquer or to fall, and the grim covenants followed Old Noll to victory. We can almost hear the voices of Burke and Pitt, and Fox and Sheridan, making the arches of Westminster ring. For us the auburn-eyed master walked the streets of Stratford-on-Avon. For us Newton watched the apples fall and the doors of Science open to receive the mysteries of the spheres. For us Stephenson with his hand upon the throttle-valve of the first locomotive caused it to sound the shrill note of triumph which prophesied the marvels of this industrial age. May not we, the American sons of those mighty sires, find something in these memories to stir our pulses, something to strike the lyre of thought with an anthem sweep?

Why revive the hatreds of the past? It is 136 years since the close of the Revolutionary war. It is 104 years since the soldiers of England and America faced each other on the battlefield, and, since the close of our Civil war, 54 years ago, we have grown closer together in interest and in friendship.

It may not be forgotten that twenty-one years ago, when the cloven hoof of the Maine went down beneath the waters, and this nation arose in its righteous wrath against Spain, there were mutterings and menaces against us throughout continental Europe, from the Black sea to the Baltic, from the Danube to the Rhine. Then the red blood of kinship, sluggish for many years, began to course like quicksilver through the veins of John Bull. "I say," he said to the conspirators, "you had better hold on a bit before you take sides against the United States? Great Britain is wearing the ermine of the High Chancellor of Nations, and she is ready, if necessary, to give you a dose of government by injunction. You must not aid the dying despotism of Spain in its contest with the United States. If you do, I will stand behind Uncle Sam. You had better not meddle with our combination buzz-saw, for

"Wherever we come, we twain
 The throne of the tyrant shall rock and reel.
 And his menace be void and vain;
 For they are lords of a strong young land,
 And we are lords of the main."

"When the captain of the German warship in Manila bay threatened to prevent Admiral Dewey from entering, he was notified by the commander of a British battleship not to meddle—and he didn't meddle.

Why should we not be close friends with Great Britain?

"We speak the self-same tongue
 That Milton wrote, that Chatham spoke,
 And Burns and Shakespeare sung."

THE GRAPE INDUSTRY

When the prohibition regime was still distant, the grape-growers of California and Ohio were asking in dismay, "What will we do with our grapes?"

Now they know. They will make grape juice and grape jam and grape jelly and grape syrup out of them. And from the present demand and present prices, it is evident that they will make more profit from these products than they ever made from their wine.

Producers of grains, hops and nearly all the other things which formerly entered into the manufacture of alcoholic liquors are having a similar experience. Their product can be used for temperance drinks and for foodstuffs for which the public is clamoring.

This situation serves once more to justify the famous aphorism of the Boston Globe: "I am an old man, and have had many troubles, but most of them never happened."

GERMAN SHAME

All Germany is still whining about the "shame" of the peace treaty, as if it were a disgrace inflicted upon Germany by outside powers.

It is an abuse of words. The German dramatist Grillparzer, as Max Harden reminds his fellow-countrymen, wrote truly: "I know only one shame on earth, and that is to do wrong."

The shame lies in the crimes committed by the German government and the German army with the enthusiastic support of the German nation. What Germany is enduring now is merely the logical consequence of those crimes. And if the Germans showed any moral appreciation of the horrors and injustices they committed, if they were really and heartily ashamed of their deeds, that in itself would do much to wipe out the shame and win them some respect.

There is always some compensation. As the percentage of alcoholic beverages goes down, the interest percentage on the drink-money saved goes up.

The Crux of It

Salt Lake Herald

The President of the United States has returned after a six month's stay in Europe. He went upon his own volition, tarried as long as he felt inclined and returns when he feels so disposed. The American people were not consulted. Some of them may have done a deal of thinking.

That the government business has suffered because of the absence of the President and the inability of the executive and legislative branches to properly function is admitted. The questions which the President's fellow countrymen will be asking are—Was the President justified in abandoning his constitutional duties at the seat of government for those of the peace conference at Paris? Did he contribute something that would have been impossible if he had remained away? Did he bring about understandings of such importance that would have been impossible if entrusted to others? Did he accomplish more than an American peace delegation appointed by him and confirmed by the United States Senate would have done?

If the President succeeds in answering these questions to the satisfaction of the people it is probable pending legislation by Congress having for its object the prevention of a similar hiatus in governmental affairs may be averted. The Senate has a right to cross-examine him. The people have a right to know.

Banking Campaign

Santa Paula Chronicle

A campaign of newspaper advertising in behalf of the banks and trust companies with the particular object of encouraging thrift was recently run in Cleveland, Ohio.

Some of the results of this campaign were most astonishing. One Euclid avenue bank was visited by three Assyrians who deposited over $30,000 in currency that they had buried in the cellar until the newspaper advertising had told them of the idea of putting it in a bank.

The enterprising banks of the country have caught the "big idea" that the surest way to increase their business is to show the other fellow how to get ahead first, in doing this they not only build the foundation for their own business but they are doing a great national good in teaching the public the idea of business and thrift.

The two most fertile sources of new savings deposits are the "stocking bank" of the foreigner and the pay envelope of the prosperous wage earner. Prosperous industries and a thrifty people make a solid foundation for any financial institution.

All Alike

Fresno Republican

The world is shrinking to a neighborhood in more respects than mere trans-Atlantic aeroplanes. Instance, the Hochi of Tokio, quotes an employment office manager as saying: "we are greatly surprised at the growing expectations of girls seeking positions in domestic service. They want to remove the distinction between master and servant, and demand a proper recognition of their personal rights. A young applicant recently wanted freedom from 1 to 6 p. m. so that she might study English with the object of becoming an auctioneer."

Fast travel brings people physically closer together. But it is the sense of the same problems, working themselves out in the same ways under the impact of the same forces that brings men spiritually near.

Watch 'Im!

Seek California Products

(From Long Beach Press)

Lifting of the blockade and the rules forbidding trade with Germany is bound to have enlivening effect upon American commerce, and, resultantly, upon American industrial production. In the quickened overseas trade California may, should and will share generously. Germany, Austria and the Balkan countries, as well as the allied powers and neutral lands of western Europe, all will be eager to take all of California's surplus production of foodstuffs that can be sent them in non-perishable form.

This huge demand for California soil products will continue indefinitely, without doubt. It justifies big expansion of production of staple foodstuffs and other standard necessities, in this state. Europe always will be a large buyer of several of the products which California grows extensively. Hence, it is but far-sighted, shrewd business to lay the groundwork for increased production in this state. The opportunity lies before Californians. It remains for them to demonstrate their enterprise and aggressiveness by grasping the opportunity. They will do this, never fear.

THE DANCERS.

From the gray woods they come, on silent feet
 Into a cone of light.
 A moment poised,
 A lifting note,
 O fair! O fleet!
 Whence did you come in your amazing flight?
 And whither now?
 Do you, reluctant, wistfully retreat?
 Oh, surely you have danced upon the hills
 With the immortals.
 As an arrow thrills
 Through the blue air and sings,
 You join with the proud wind, your fluent limbs
 As tameless as his wings.
 Within your hollowed hand you hold the draft
 That wakes us from our lingering lethargy
 To skyeey joy
 Like yours, luring and swift and free.
 Yours is the birth in beauty that was sung
 A golden age ago:
 And now you come
 With pipe and timbrel and the quickening drum,
 Till men have hope of conquest over time
 And death and tears.
 Dreams know not any bars.
 You leap like living music through the air
 And love triumphant treads among the stars.

Summer Complaint in Children

There is not anything like so many deaths from this disease now as before Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy came into such general use. When this remedy is given with castor oil as directed and proper care is taken as to diet, it is safe to say that fully ninety-nine out of every hundred cases recover. Mr. W. G. Campbell of Butler, Tenn., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for summer complaint in children. It is far ahead of anything I have ever used for this purpose."—Advertisement.

OBSERVATIONS

Mexico asks us to stop the smuggling of arms into Mexico, and to promise not to send troops across the border again. If we grant the first request, the other will take care of itself.

The proposal to increase freight rates again is the first step toward increasing wages again to meet the higher cost of living made by the new rates.

The base of all sound political economy is a regular job for everybody.

The young man who complains that there is no chance for a young fellow in this age is right so far as that sort of young fellow is concerned.

Too much indulgence in the goose step leads to a state of affairs very similar to the lock step.

The change to water would be less painful if they could put one foot on a rail and pay five cents a glass for it.

The doughboys are leaving Germany, but they are leaving a reputation behind.

Peace will revive the American girl's interest in a mere civilian with a job.

It may be that the French boosted prices to the doughboy in an effort to get them as high as American ideals.

The loafer doesn't really live longer than a working man. It merely seems longer.

Most of the urge to go back to the farm comes from men who sit in front of an electric fan to write about it.

Fond memory of the ole swimmin' hole overlooks the little details of green scum on the water and the village garbage dumped nearby.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

Peace is in the songs
 of trees,
 Peace is in the sun-
 drenched air.
 I only open up
 my heart—
 Peace flows in from everywhere.

BUY COAL EARLY AND PREVENT SHORTAGE

Production Is Low and Fear Is Felt For Famine Next Winter

The United States Geological Survey has made public at Washington a report covering the first six months' operation of the bituminous coal mines of the United States, which shows that during the first half of the year the production of bituminous coal was more than 70,000,000 tons below the amount produced during the first six months of 1918.

If the present rate of production is not materially increased during the latter half of the year bituminous coal production for 1919 will fall 100,000,000 tons below the requirements of the country as estimated by the Survey in a recent report to Fuel Administrator Garfield.

Such a decrease, in the opinion of officials of the Survey and Fuel Administration, could mean but one thing—the greatest coal shortage in the history of the country.

The decreased production is almost wholly due, the analysis of the Survey shows, to the failure of consumers to buy their coal early in the year. The only way in which production can be thoroughly stimulated throughout the industry is for consumers to place at once orders for their fall and winter coal requirements. Mines cannot achieve their maximum efficiency unless there are orders on hand for their product. In making public its report the Survey says:

"Time Passing Rapidly.
 "The best time in the year for laying in stocks of coal for next winter is rapidly passing, with no evidence of general buying for this purpose. The rate of production has not varied greatly since the middle of May, and averaging about 30 per cent below last year, is apparently just sufficient to meet current consumption."

To meet the full requirements of the country, as estimated by the Survey, production must be increased from an average of 8,125,000 tons per week during the first six months of 1919 to an average of 10,900,000 tons per week during the last six months of 1919. This means an increase of more than 30 per cent. A probable shortage of cars and a labor shortage promise to become limiting factors in coal production within a short time. The labor shortage is already felt in certain sections and a car shortage also is reported in certain fields in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia.

Bituminous coal operators throughout the country unite with the Geological Survey in predicting a widespread general coal shortage next fall and winter, unless consumers immediately place orders for their requirements and thus enable the mines to operate at a rate more nearly approaching full time output.

WOMAN WHO SLASHED GIRL'S FACE ARRaigned

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Charged with assaulting Mrs. Mary Nielson, pretty 26-year-old telephone operator and slashing her cheek with a knife, Mrs. Pearl Gargano, 27, appeared before Judge Oppenheim today.

Mrs. Nielson is probably marked for life as the result of the attack. When arrested, Mrs. Gargano, sobbing, admitted she had made a mistake, that she thought the girl was one who was stealing the affections of her husband. "I was insane with jealousy. I regret this horrible mistake and am willing to make any amends possible," she admitted.

STEER GAINS FAST

DAILY GREETING

We may not climb the heavenly steep,
To bring the Lord Christ down;
In vain we search the lowest deep,
For Him no depths can drown.
But warm, sweet, tender, even yet
A present help is He;
And faith has still its Olivet,
And love its Galilee.
The healing of the seamless dress
Is by our beds of pain;
We touch Him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again.
Through Him the first fond prayer
Is said,
Our lips of childhood frame;
The last low whispers of our dead
Are burdened with His name.
O Lord and Master of us all,
Whatever our name or sign,
We own Thy sway, we hear Thy call,
We test our lives by Thine!
—Whittier.

Master Course Under Godowsky

Clarence Gustlin, well known local pianist and supervisor of music in the high school, is attending the master class which Leopold Godowsky is conducting in Los Angeles. Godowsky is recognized as the greatest living master of piano technique and the privilege of coming directly under his tutelage is a very rare one. Mr. Gustlin's especial interest in the course arises from the fact that he is one of the chosen local representatives of the Progressive Series Standardized Music Course, of which Mr. Godowsky is editor-in-chief, and which is being adopted by universities, conservatories and public schools as a piano text and standard basis for music credit, the local high school having so adopted it. Mr. Gustlin will qualify as an instructor of the most advanced or university materials of this course as well as the elementary and intermediate grades.

School Playgrounds

The school playgrounds are being well patronized this summer and everything is progressing smoothly. About one hundred have enrolled at the Roosevelt school. Not all of them come every day and those that do have mothers working away from home. It is much better to have the little ones there than on the streets and the youngsters enjoy themselves to the utmost.

There are all kinds of games for their amusement. Flinch, checkers, rock and games like that are nice, quiet amusements for indoors and the more exercising games of basketball, baseball and the swings are always ready for them out of doors.

Mrs. Charles Maxwell is supervisor of the time as she undoubtedly would be kept very busy the greater part of the time as she necessarily would be with nearly fifty children every afternoon. The mornings are not quite so crowded.

The age limit has been placed to include children from five to fourteen years. Younger babies are allowed if they are accompanied by some one sufficiently old to take good care of them. It cannot be said that Mrs. Maxwell could do it with her other duties, and such little people are very apt to slip away and get into some kind of trouble or badly bumped.

Mrs. Emma Barnes is in charge at McKinley school, the playgrounds there being utilized by many small folk. Mrs. Barnes is an experienced and capable kindergarten and well fitted for her duties along these lines.

Vacation Days

The reaction of the war so often spoken of, the desire to get away from home, to see the different parts of the country, and to take long trips, does not seem to have much effect on Santa Ana people and their summer vacations, as most of them seem to prefer the surrounding beaches and mountains, where their friends are and where they can feel "at home" and have just a nice, comfortable, good time every day in the week.

Miss Harriett Wollaston and Miss Beulah Meenan, left yesterday for a two weeks' vacation at Camp Baldy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hoy and family spent the week end at Hulbert Grove, near Descanso.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips left today for a few days' rest at Balboa.

Mrs. Frank Cannon and son Loren are visiting this week with Mrs. Cannon's sister, Mrs. Holt, in Los Angeles. Mr. Cannon went up with his family Saturday night, returning Sunday evening.

Mrs. S. A. Sievers is visiting for two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Stroschein, at her home in San Juan Capistrano.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crookshank and their children left this morning for Big Bear Lake, where the family will occupy a newly-finished cabin for the remainder of the summer. Mr. Crookshank is returning here as business affairs necessitate.

Mrs. E. D. White and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hamilton are taking longer trips. Mrs. White and children left Sunday for her former home in Montana, where they will visit for three months with her father and mother.

Mr. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton and daughter leave Thursday for Kansas.

Well-Known Young Folks Wed.

The marriage of Frank Wollaston of Santa Ana and Miss Theo Myrtle Snow of Paulerino, was very quietly celebrated this morning at nine o'clock at the Church of the Messiah, Rev. W. L. H. Benton reading the Episcopal service.

Only relatives were present at the ceremony and immediately following, the bride and groom left for a short trip to San Diego.

Their many friends will be glad to know that upon their return they will make their home in Santa Ana, as Mr. Wollaston is employed with the Southern Counties Gas company here.

FOR A TINY 'BEST FROCK'

The very smallest ladies should properly have the very prettiest frocks—and here is an example of what that "prettiest" is. For little maids from 3 to 6 years what could be more adorable than this simple concoction of white handkerchief linen, pointed all about the hem with Vandyke points—with white piped edges, and a background of lacy ruffles. A soft pink satin sash completes the picture.

Football Expert Believes Salvation of Russia Lies Largely in American Games

Dr. James A. Babbitt Says Athletics Much Enjoyed By Prisoners

NEW YORK, July 15.—Dr. James A. Babbitt, for ten years a member of the intercollegiate football rules committee, and who has just returned from a long stay in the Russian prison camps of Germany, believes Russia's salvation is in American athletics. Dr. Babbitt was chief of the medical and surgical relief work of the Red Cross mission.

"It was a great sight to watch these men after four years of war imprisonment regain interest in themselves and their health through the medium of athletic games," says the doctor.

BYFORD, EX-CHAMPION DEFEATS TWO PLAYERS

CHICAGO, July 15.—Signaling his return to championship form after two seasons' absence from the courts, Heath Byford, former western champion, today was rid of two aspirants to the United States clay courts title at the tournament here.

Byford last yesterday eliminated Walter Finger and J. B. O'bear of St. Louis in successive singles.

William Triden of Philadelphia trimmed Charles Johnston, Jr., just before a terrific rainstorm broke up the play.

FORMER CHAMPIONS TO STAGE TITLE BATTLE

ST. PAUL, July 15.—There'll be a comeback either way Thursday night when Mike O'Dowd, world middleweight crown claimant, and Al McCoy, former champion, get together. O'Dowd spent most of the war period in France. Although he was boxing most of the time, his real training didn't start until a short time ago when he came back to St. Paul. McCoy, it was rumored, has been training for months to win back the honor he once held. The bout is scheduled for ten rounds.

FILM STARS TO VIE FOR DOG TROPHIES

Two special trophies will be hung up for film folk at the forthcoming Santa Barbara Kennel Club show, which is to be held August 1 and 2.

These are in addition to the eighty prizes offered to general competitors in the various classes provided.

Handsome cups will be awarded to the man and woman respectively, actively engaged in some branch of motion picture production, who enters the best dog.

All dogs must be entered in their respective classes, which will constitute the first basis of judgment. They will then come up for final consideration in the "mixed special" event.

Douglas Fairbanks, who is known to be an ardent bulldog fancier, is expected to have several entries in the Santa Barbara show. "Fatty" Arbuckle, it is known, will back his "Luke" as being without a peer in dogdom, while Mack Sennett says "Keystone Teddy" known to millions of film fans, is the finest dog in all the world. Other probable exhibitors are Charles Ray, W. S. Hart and Tom Mix.

Back east, Pauline Fredericks has a fine kennel, which is her hobby. She will send for some of the best dogs to show in Santa Barbara. Kathleen Clifford expects to enter her charming Pekinese "Mumu," and Katherine McDonald will be here with a string of prize winners. Other well known film stars who are considering showing in the Palm Ring on the Belvedere grounds are Ruth Roland, Bessie Barriscale, Dorothy Dalton, Clara Kimball Young, Dorothy Phillips, Mary Pickford and others.

Trophies to the amount of $3,000 will be offered at the Santa Barbara show, which is held under American Kennel Club rules. Secretary S. E. Kramer will be glad to furnish any information concerning the details. John Bradshaw, one of the best known dog men in this country or abroad, will be superintendent.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero—Gene Packard. The Phil southpaw pitched the Reds out of the leadership by whipping them while the Giants were taming the Pirates.

Casey Stengel attempted a circus catch on a low liner, missed it, and Benny Kauff scored the winning run in a five to four game.

Dutch Leonard proved to Miller Huggins that a few dollars shouldn't have caused a rupture. He shut out the Yanks for the Tigers, 3 to 0.

Jim Vaughn took a hitch in the Braves' average when he slipped them a 5 to 3 defeat.

Carl Wellman still is "coming back." He won his fifth straight for the Browns, 1 to 0, the Athletics being the nothing.

Hi Jasper made it a fifty-fifty series and he defeated the Senators, 5 to 1.

HEYDLER AVERS MINORS HURT BASEBALL

Not Playing Fair With the Majors or the Public, He Declares

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 15.—John Heydler, president of the National League, today took the stand that minor leagues are not playing fair with either the public or the majors in denying the draft to the big leagues while allowing it within their own organization.

"I believe, however," Heydler said, "that there will be no trouble between the minors and majors in reaching an amicable agreement if the minors finally come to the conclusion that they want to deal with the national commission."

"They have made the mistake of inviting the commission to come to them and to deal with a man the commission does not recognize as having any power. I would prefer to deal with the president and secretary-treasurer of the national association—the men we always have dealt with and the men who have done the most for the minor leagues."

Heydler declared baseball will suffer if the minors persist in their drafting, with the majors barred. Young ball players are prevented from advancing, he claimed, and predicted that ball players and public will protest after a trial of the plan.

"As the minors are now preparing to operate, players, unless purchased outright, will advance no farther than the A. A. leagues," he said.

Heydler said he had expected the majors and minors to meet and formulate an agreement under which baseball can be operated with the old national agreement abrogated.

ADVERTISING OF WALNUT AIDS INDUSTRY

Manager Thorpe Points Out Value of Publicity Given Diamond Brand

"When you check over the reasons why at least 85 or 90 per cent of the walnut growers of the state should be members of the California Walnut Growers' association, don't forget the importance of Diamond Brand national advertising," said Manager Thorpe, of the Central association, in Los Angeles recently.

"Diamond Brand advertising has already made it an advantage to be an association member, and this advantage will be more and more apparent as the campaign progresses."

"Our advertising in the past has been planned for the one purpose of selling walnuts—any walnuts—the independent's nuts as well as those packed under the Diamond Brand. It has succeeded in doing this to a very pleasing degree, with a result that the California Walnut Growers' association has made from 3 to 10 cents per pound for every grower on his walnuts, whether such grower marketed through the association or not."

"This year's advertising campaign, however, marks a new era, and without giving away too many secrets before the advertising appears, I can promise that it is going to be such as to prove to consumers why Diamond Brand California walnuts are better, and why they should refuse to accept any substitute brands."

"There is no overlooking the fact that the California Walnut Growers' association has been of inestimable service to the growers of walnuts through its marketing work as well as through improvements it has been able to bring about in the growing and handling of the nuts and its service in legislative, freight rate and tariff matters. The association has urged the use of walnuts as an all-year-round food staple and has already succeeded in spreading the period of consumption over a much longer season of the year than formerly. Last season, after Diamond Brand advertising had appeared in the national magazines during February and March, the April sales of walnuts were the largest on record—the demand for nuts of Diamond Brand quality was so great that the association was able to sell the last of its cars at a nice premium over opening prices."

TIMBER SUPPLY COME LARGELY FROM WEST

Graves Says Much of Export Demand Must Be Produced on Coast

The greater part of the timber necessary to supply demand for the development of the export lumber trade of America must come from California and the western states, according to Henry S. Graves of the United States Forest Service. Graves says timber from this side of the Rocky mountains will have a wide market because of the devastation in eastern forests by fire. He explains it is planned to increase the forest acreage in the western states and to replace burned out forests. A campaign is planned to create more effective fire fighting organizations throughout the country.

"California is being looked to," he said, "for a majority supply of the lumber needed for the export trade and, in her own interests, she should make a big effort to guard against forest fires. In the East huge timber belts have been destroyed by fire through sheer negligence. The West should never permit the same thing to happen."

Secretary of Agriculture David F. Houston, who is now in Southern California, will join Graves in San Francisco in a few days. Conferences will be held with officials of the local forestry service and private foresters.

Graves, who went to France last year to aid in the conservation of forests there, said there was a big need for American lumber in Europe. "And America must supply this need," he added, "even though it should mean skimping ourselves."

Graves says the timber most in demand in Europe is walnut. It is planned, he said, to plant large quantities of walnuts in this country. America's present supply of walnut will not last more than fifteen years.

TWO LANDMARKS MUST GIVE WAY TO PROGRESS

Buildings - Associated With Early History of City To Be Razed

With one in the hands of wreckers and the other soon to be razed, two old landmark buildings of Santa Ana are doomed to destruction to make room for more modern buildings.

Wreckers today commenced operations on the old barn at the corner of Main and Second streets, the property of R. J. Blee. Al Comer is doing the work. The other building to be razed soon is the Burton house immediately adjoining the Register on the south.

Wrecking of the Blee barn carries one back to the days when freighting was the order from the Old Newport landing, on Newport Bay, now known as the Country Club grounds, and horse racing was the rage in Santa Ana and Southern California.

The barn was erected at the corner of Orange and Chestnut avenue as a private barn for Blee's blooded stock, he being one of the fine horse raisers of the section in those days. The barn was built by his cousin, J. W. Blee, in 1887, and every bit of the lumber was purchased in San Francisco and shipped by boat to Old Newport. The two Bleees went to San Francisco personally and bought the lumber, buying up a cargo for use in the barn and other construction work Blee had on hand at the time. It was hauled from Newport to Santa Ana by teams.

The redwood shingles being torn from the building today are the same as were placed there thirty-two years ago by workmen under J. W. Blee, and Blee says they are better today than some of the new shingles going into construction on work now.

The barn was built mostly of spruce, the up and down boards on the second story being all of this timber. There are no supporting cross timbers in the loft, the boards carrying all the weight.

Horses became a drag on the market a few years later and Blee quit raising fancy stock, and devoted himself to other interests. The barn was too large for use on his ranch.

Barn Moved Up Town.

Institution of the sewer system in Santa Ana offered him an opportunity to get the barn off his property and move it up town. A year or two after the sewers were built, considerable trouble was experienced from tree roots growing into the pipes. Blee had a row of large pepper trees along the street in front of his residence, which is now owned and occupied by Geo. A. Edgar. The city council decided that the only way to eliminate the trouble was to order the removal of pepper trees throughout the city, and such action was taken. Blee cut his down, and this made it possible to get the barn out.

The sewer was installed in 1898 and a year or two after that the barn was moved to its present location, Main and Second streets, and was used for years as a livery stable. In recent years it has been used as a mule and horse sales stable.

Mr. Blee has no definite plans for immediate replacing of the structure with a modern building, but the location is one of the most prominent vacant corners in the city, and it is not expected that it will lie idle very long. Blee has had many inquiries for the property, and rumors on the street today were that a garage would be built at once or that a rooming house would go up. Blee denies that he has either under consideration at this time.

Second Building In City.
W. E. Gates recently bought the Burton property on Sycamore street adjoining the Register, and today he announced that he would tear down the old residence there and erect a modern two story building, with the upper floor devoted to apartments and the lower to business rooms.

The property is 214 North Sycamore. The old shack there is said to have been the second house erected in Santa Ana and to be about 57 years old. The Burtons have owned it for many years and "Pa" Burton has been living on the premises in recent years. It belongs to heirs and while negotiations have been under way for some months, the deal by which Gates became the owner has just been completed.

Gates expects to have the lot cleared of present buildings within thirty days and soon thereafter he hopes to be able to start construction of a new building. The lot has a frontage of 50 feet.

For old friendship's sake, Gates will give the one-room building now occupied by Burton to him and will have it moved to a vacant lot belonging to a brother of Burton, where "pa" Burton may continue to use the room as his abode.

BANDITS TAKE TOWN, DRAFT MEN IN RANKS

MARFA, Tex., July 15.—Mexican bandits, who claimed to be Carranza soldiers, surrounded the Mexican village of San Antonio, fifteen miles south of Presidio, Tex., Sunday night, and impressed all male citizens of military age in service, according to advices here today.

MOUNTAIN BOOZE MAKER TELLS HIS SIDE

Picturesque Story of Visit to Moonshiner Told By Correspondent

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY
(Staff Correspondent of N. E. A.)

WHITEBURK, Ky., July 15.—Timidly I knocked on the door of the crude moonshiner's cabin. I had come to get the moonshiner's viewpoint.

"More'n likely yo'll will get a load of buckshot in yo' kizzard 'stead'n a story for yo' paper," a revenue officer had told me a mile back in the woods.

I had left him and a party of raiders there to call on Cal Toxaway, a notorious moonshiner—such a clever moonshiner that for years he had been operating stills, abandoning one when the "revenoos" got on his trail, only to start up another even more securely hidden.

Toxaway admits that he makes moonshine whisky—and laughs in the revenue officers' faces. They can't touch him till they can get absolute material evidence of his operation of a still.

Down the mountain I had seen this sign rudely scrawled on a board nailed to a tree: "STRANGERS STAY IN THE ROAD."

That's the warning one often sees. It means that the moonshiners consider anyone prowling through the woods as an avowed enemy. I went coatless, to show that I wasn't carrying a gun, and I was nervous when I knocked on the door.

Moonshiner True to Form

The door opened and I saw a big, bony man with several days' growth of beard and an unfriendly look in his eyes.

This, by description, was the "champion" moonshiner. He wore the usual collarless shirt and overalls. From what I saw during two weeks in the Appalachian mountains I think all moonshiner moonshiners are stoop-shouldered—and none wear socks.

Toxaway was true to type. So was his two-room shanty. I could see three double beds crowded into the tiny front room. The rear room was kitchen, dining room and "sett'n" room combined.

Four small children, badly in need of a bath and decent clothing, peered around the moonshiner's bulky form. A saw-toothed woman, flat-chested, devoid of feminine curves, with stringy hair and wearing an ugly "wrapper," stood at the door of the back room.

"What you'll a doin' 'hyar?" demanded the moonshiner ungraciously. "This 'hyar ain't no healthy place for strangers."

I tried to tell him I was real pleasant to him. "Tolerable yarn," he commented, spitting tobacco just into the yard. "Ah'm shore yo'll ain't no revenoo right enough." He paused to sneer, continuing rather proudly: "Ah've knowed ev'ry one a them white trash fasten 'em 'hyar could get new men to come up 'hyar and meddle in our affairs."

I played strongly on his vanity, telling him I knew he was too clever a man to mistake me for a "damned revenoo."

The moonshiner finally decided I was harmless. He ordered me to "set." I did, on a rock in his front yard. He disappeared and returned with a tin cup.

"Have a Drink," Says Champion
"Ah guess yo'll is all right. Yo' better be. 'Hyar—jest to show they ain't no hard feelin's, have some corn likker. It's shore good stuff—ah made it m'self."

He grinned. I obediently drank the white liquid in the tin cup. It was like dynamite! It just about lifted me out of my shoes!

Having established friendly relations, the moonshiner unbosomed. For a while he gave his undivided attention to cursing the revenue officers. Then he let me in on the moonshiner's view of things.

From Toxaway I got a verification of stories told me by revenue men—that the real moonshiner of the mountains looks upon whisky distilling as a God-given right and upon the government as an oppressor.

With a moonshiner like Toxaway moonshining is a matter of tradition and heredity.

"My pap an' gran'pap raised corn right 'hyar like ah'm a doin' now," said Toxaway. "They all made corn likker outen it. They made it outen the corn they all grewed theifself. An' ef'n they all wanted to give some to the neighbors an' take likker some bacon or coffee or mebbe money, it warn't no business a nobody else."

"Ah raise corn. An' ef'n Ah feeds it to mah haws it's all right. An' Ah raise apples an' make cider outen 'em. That's all right, too."

"But ef'n Ah doan feed the corn to the haws but makes corn likker outen it an' feeds the still stop to the haws—which is a sight better fer 'em—the damned revenooos come up 'hyar an' meddle and shoot me dead ef'n

"Taint Right," He Says
"How yo'll figger thaht?" "Taint right! We all has a right to make corn likker and they ain't no government ever goin' to make me quit it."

"Ah got a wife an' little children to sport. That's mah duty. An' if revenooos come a bustin' up 'hyar to meddle in mah sportin' mah family like Ah always done an' like mah pap and gran'pap done, why, Ah'm jest a goin' to kill 'em—jest like a snake!"

Toxaway grew eloquent. His eyes blazed. Hearing him, you couldn't doubt that he meant every word of it. I began to feel sorry for the next revenue man that came "meddlin' aroun'."

Getting up against a lanky, iron-muscled moonshiner of his type—with generations of rancor and hatred in his heart—isn't a very healthy job. I wouldn't be a revenue officer for a million dollars!

USE OF KEROSENE AID TOWARD COOL KITCHEN

Most women dread hot summer days when the kitchen becomes as stifling as a furnace. It is plain, hard drudgery to hang over a coal stove as the thermometer mounts higher and higher.

Many women have found by putting in a kerosene stove that their kitchens are kept cool and comfortable even in the hottest days in summer.

But the use of a good kerosene, such as the Standard Oil Company's Pearl Oil, has many other advantages than that of keeping the kitchen cool. It is easy to handle—far easier than either coal or wood. Furthermore, it makes no dirt or dust which must be cleaned up continually. It lights at the touch of a match, so there is no waiting for the fire to come up.

Pearl Oil burns up clean and produces no odor. It is refined and re-refined by a special process which removes the impurities. Wherever it is bought—in the city, in the country, in the mountains, or on the seashore—it is always the same high quality kerosene. It can be bought everywhere in 5 gallon cans, or in bulk at a slight saving cost.

STREAMS LOWER NOW THAN IN MANY YEARS

San Bernardino Section Hoping For Early Rains This Fall

San Bernardino Sun: Water shortage throughout California's agricultural regions, which will become serious before the end of the next two months, is becoming manifest through San Bernardino county.

The mountain streams are lower than for many years at this period of the season, and water company officials and farmers and orchardists are becoming apprehensive of the situation.

While the situation in San Bernardino is not as serious as other sections of the state, it is admitted that unless there are early rains in the fall there will be a water shortage.

Every source of the city's water supply is being used to furnish the requirements of this city, but William Starke, water superintendent, said last night he did not believe the situation here would become sufficiently acute to demand a restriction on the use of domestic water.

At the city's Antil wells a total of 408 inches was flowing yesterday, the lowest in their history. At the end of last year's summer season the wells were flowing 510 inches. At the Lytle Creek well owned by the city, the water level has dropped to 115 to 117 feet, the lowest in the history of that well, which was drilled in 1908.

Water experts say the Lytle Creek basin is the lowest in this section.

Lake Drawn Low

So heavy has been the draw on Big Bear lake, which serves the orchards of Redlands and surrounding country, that it is at its lowest level for this time of the summer in five years.

Mill Creek, City Creek and Deep Creek are down.

One strange situation, however, is that there is a flow of about 500 more inches than at this time last year in the Santa Ana river at the Salt Lake bridge. The water in the Santa Ana rises in this section, and the increase is undoubtedly due to heavier irrigation than usual, in the lands above the river.

Reports of water shortages are being received from all sections of the state. The Southern California Edison Company here is now making an estimate of the additional power that will be necessary because of the greater lift in wells which are pumped. The hydro-electric plants of the company are suffering because of decreased water in streams and stream plants are being operated.

SIGNATURES FOR REV. OLIVER IS NEW CEMETERY DIST. NEEDED

With only about half the number of names needed for petitions to the Board of Supervisors asking the formation of a cemetery district to comprise the larger portion of the South half of the county, the Chamber of Commerce is renewing efforts to secure more names.

About 3500 names are represented on petitions that have been turned in to Secretary Metzgar. A large number of petitions are still out, and the secretary and committee in charge would appreciate it if those holding the petitions would send them in at once so that a check can be made. Not less than 7000 names will be required.

In order to secure the additional names quickly, a copy of the petition will be printed in the Register tomorrow evening. Everyone interested is requested to clip the petition from the paper, sign it and forward it to the secretary. It would be a good policy for one or two people in each neighborhood to circulate the petition and get several names before mailing to Metzgar.

The purpose of the district is to provide for raising funds for the care of abandoned cemeteries, the old Santa Ana cemetery and other burial plots in the county coming within the district and subject to care by the same fund.

It is an important matter and those who have not already signed should make it a point to do so without further delay.

BAND WILL GIVE TWO OF LATEST MUSIC HITS

Concert Will Start Tomorrow
Night at 8:15 Instead of 8 O'clock

"Johnny's in Town" and "Beautiful Ohio," two of the latest popular musical selections, will be rendered tomorrow night by Santa Ana Elks' band at the open air concert. This will be the first time they have been played in the city by such an organization.

Conductor W. Frank Harris is keeping abreast of the times and is making every effort to get up to the minute pieces for rendition by his aggregation of musical artists.

Harris has been unable to secure in Los Angeles band music for "Long, Long Trail," which was requested for this week by some one at the close of last week's concert. He hopes to be able to have it soon. He regrets to have to disappoint parties making requests for special numbers, but says music houses are reporting it very difficult to obtain some of the popular numbers.

Believing that commencing the concert at 8:15 instead of 8 o'clock will prove of greater convenience to the public, Harris announces the concert hereafter will start at the latter hour.

Following is the program for tomorrow evening:

1. March—"The Jolly Trooper"—Del Vecchio.
2. Intermezzo—"A Gem"—Tobani.
3. "Uncle Tom"—dramatic picture—Lampe. (Uncle Tom dressing before fire in the quiet of his cabin, when there passes before him familiar scenes and tunes of the "Old South." Finally vision of the Emancipation.)
4. Popular (a)—"Johnny's in Town," Meyer. (b)—"Beautiful Ohio"—Mary Earl.
5. Selection—"Gounod's 'Faust'—Teyrolles.
6. Excerpts (from comic opera)—"Fiddlers Three"—Johnstone. Including "The Fiddle Bows Begin to Fly," "One Hour, Sweetheart, with You," "Don't You Think You'll Miss Me?" "As the Flitting Swallows Fly," "Love of a Day," "For Love, Etc."

Biting His Tongue Causes Exciting Time for a While

James Worsham, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Worsham, didn't bite the end of his tongue off, he just bit it, while waiting at the P. E. station in Los Angeles to come home from a visit to his maternal grandparents.

But he created as much commotion as if he had bit it off.

When the lad slipped and bumped his chin on the brass railing, he let out a yell that startled everybody near, and kept it up. His grandmother, who was with him, tried to see what had happened but the lad kept his teeth clinched so she could not see within his mouth. She fainted when she saw blood oozing from between his teeth.

The station policeman sent in a call to the receiving hospital, and an ambulance responded, taking both the boy and his grandmother to the hospital.

There, one nurse worked to revive the grandmother, while two doctors and another nurse tried to persuade James to open his mouth so they could treat his tongue. Moral suasion didn't work, neither did the promise of candy, so they finally had to pry his mouth open and insert a gag to keep it open so they could work.

The grandmother regained consciousness slightly, heard the doctor say he didn't know whether they would have to take stitches in the tongue or not, then lapsed again.

Meanwhile, the P. E. station policeman had telephoned to the boy's grandfather, who is a Los Angeles undertaker, and he rushed post haste to the receiving hospital to take care of the two "patients." The boy is now home and on the road to recovery, and no ill results of the incident are anticipated.

A peculiar feature of the case is that the lad's father, also bit his tongue quite severely while he was a "kid" and still bears the scar.

125 LOTS, MAIN AND BROADWAY NEED WEEDS CLEARED

Street Superintendent Hoy Makes Observations For Benefit of Council

Seventy-five lots on North and South Main and fifty lots on North and South Broadway will come under the city's order for cleaning weeds from lots and curbs on Main, Broadway, East First and West Fifth streets, according to the statement of Street Superintendent Hoy to the city council last night.

The city proposes to see that properties on the main arteries into the city are cleared of unsightly weeds and at last week's meeting steps were taken to commence operations under the state weed law, which makes it possible for the municipality to do the work and make the charges a lien against the property.

The streets will be posted and where the owners do not do the work within the required time the city will take the matter in hand, employ workmen to clear the weeds and charge the cost against the property.

Official notice from County Horticultural Commissioner Earl Morris that Johnson grass obtained in this city and that the city would be held more or less responsible for its eradication, brought up a lengthy discussion as to whether the notice was intended to cover the city streets and parkings or whether it was just a matter of form and for the purpose of enlisting the council's assistance in the effort to stamp out the grass.

It is conceded the county horticultural committee has jurisdiction in the city as well as outside and in view of the fact that the council did not quite understand just what the notice meant, no action was taken, beyond the assurance in discussion that the council was willing to co-operate in the movement, and that possibly in its plans for cleaning up the vacant lots in the city it would accomplish the purpose of the notice. The communication was placed on file.

Johnson grass is said to be becoming a nuisance and a menace and every effort should be made to stamp it out.

Traffic Signs
An offer of the Auto Club of Southern California to install traffic signs in the city as required by the new vehicle law effective on July 22, was accepted and the president of the council was authorized to sign a contract with the club which provides that the club will install the signs free, with the city paying for the upkeep.

A new pump for use at the well on the Lincoln school grounds was ordered from Layne & Bowler, the cost to be $173.50 for the pump, $500 for a motor and $71.65 for belting.

The well recently has been "blown" with the result that the sand has been pretty well eliminated and with the new pump capable of handling sandy water without injury, it is believed the new well will be made available for use by the city.

It has been sanded for some time and last week the work of clearing it was completed. The new well will produce between 60 and 65 inches of water and will be of material assistance in relieving possible shortage of water for the summer.

Council Notes
Maple avenue was ordered paved from First to Chestnut, and City Attorney Scott was advised to notify the Pacific Electric of the action. Steele Finley was given permission to close the street for the purpose of paving. Straightening of the P. E. tracks on that street will be done before the paving is commenced and in view of the action of the council the company will have to get busy at once. Finley also was given permission to close East Fifth from French to a point 100 feet east of Porter street for the purpose of paving.

Recommendation of a committee of which Chas. Chapman was chairman that plans for sewerage the Shaw & Russell new subdivision be accepted, was accepted. The sewer lines will run north and south on Barton, Garnsey and Flowered street work will be ordered in by resolution, with property owners on the west side of the street standing a portion of the cost and Shaw & Russell paying half. The city attorney was directed to prepare a resolution to have the work done.

J. G. Robertson & Company was granted permission to change the electric sign of the Hayes Variety Store from East Fourth to the corner of Broadway and Fourth.

Chas. I. Talbott was given permission to open an auto parking place on the vacant lot opposite the Temple theater. He will enclose it and provide covered stalls for cars. Other facilities for accommodating motorists will be provided.

May Fish in County Park Lake Any Day, Bars Let Down

THE bars are down—go as far as you like. Thus saith the Board of Supervisors in re-fishing in the lake at the County Park.

The primary purpose of the fishing is to eliminate the fishes, both big and little, from the lake so that it can be drained and cleaned of the rank growth of weeds and moss. Saturday's experiment showed that it will take all summer to clean 'em out with only one open day every two weeks, for they don't bite very well.

Therefore, when the Supervisors had considered the subject in all its angles, they decided to make every day an "open" day at the lake. The only restrictions as to limits and licenses are those of the state fish and game commission. A big party of Elks is picnicking at the park today and many of them went armed with rods and reels for a try at the sport of hooking fish and moss.

The supervisors want the lake cleaned out as soon as possible, so it won't make them mad if the lake banks are lined with fishermen and fishermen every day until all the fishes are hooked.

MANY TO ATTEND IOWA PICNIC AUGUST 9

The Iowa Association of Southern California, which includes all Iowans in the Southland, announces the twelfth annual summer picnic reunion at Bixby Park, Long Beach, all day, Saturday, August 9.

It is estimated that there are more than 200,000 Hawkeyes in Southern California and at least 25,000 are expected at this reunion. There will be something doing all day long from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. In the early morning the ninety-nine county headquarters with registers will be opened and all day the enrolling and meeting of old friends will continue. At the noon hour thousands of basket picnic dinners will be enjoyed under the trees and hot coffee will be served to all who buy souvenir badges.

About 2 o'clock the program will open, Judge Frederick W. Houser, the president, presiding. Following this will be the college reunion hour, from 3 to 4, when all who have attended any one of Iowa's thirty-five institutions of learning will gather around their headquarters to talk of the old days.

These great picnic reunions are of real value to Southern California and the Hawkeyes of Santa Ana are always largely in evidence telling of the advantages of the city as a place to live. It is a good opportunity for a booster to win new home seekers. While the Hawkeyes of Santa Ana will go for a good time and to meet old friends, they can do a lot of missionary work at the same time.

NEW MANGO VARIETY SECURED BY SHAMEL

A. D. Shamel of the United States department of agriculture, has received at Riverside by express a mango of the variety called the manga de Rosa. This is the first fruit of this variety ever grown in America, and this specimen weighs a pound.

The buds and seeds were brought into this country from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, by Mr. Shamel in 1914. They were collected in the vicinity of the Brazilian capital, in a private garden, were propagated at Miami, Fla., at the plant introduction garden maintained there by the department of agriculture.

It is the most beautiful and valuable mango with which any of the experts of the department of agriculture are familiar. The mango is the most popular single fruit grown in tropical countries.

Up to the present time no suitable variety of this fruit has been grown in California, but it is believed that in the foothills of Southern California, where the best avocados succeed, this variety may prove to be a success. The fruits of this variety sell in the markets in Brazil at from 66 to 99 cents each. This is an indication of how this fruit is regarded by people who have an unlimited number of mangoes to draw from. The average mango is selling there from two to five cents a dozen.

It is a juicy fruit with a flavor unlike that of any other fruit grown anywhere. It is eaten fresh like a plum or apple and is, apparently, refreshing on a hot day. Most mangos have a large seed and the flesh is somewhat stringy, but this variety has a small seed and practically no fiber.

$526,694 FROM OIL PROPERTY OF BIRCH CO. LAST YEAR

Assessor Sleeper Figures Net Profit of Nearly $200,000 For Tax Protestant

Eleven wells on the Birch Oil Company's property in the Brea canyon produced 339,532 barrels of oil last year from March 1, 1918 to March 1, 1919, according to figures secured from the oil company by County Assessor James Sleeper.

The company received $509,786 from the sale of its oil at the rate of $1.27 a barrel, and $16,908 from the sale of gas, making total receipts of $526,694. Sleeper's figures show, and these figures were not denied by A. Otis Birch, president of the company, or his attorneys at hearing of the Birch application for reduction of assessment before the Board of Equalization yesterday afternoon.

Sleeper's figures allow the company $2 cents a barrel production expense, which is believed to be a high figure, which would leave a net profit to the company per barrel of 45 cents, or approximately $200,000 net profit from oil and gas during the year.

For the purposes of assessment, Sleeper figures the net returns of oil companies from their production records at ten per cent of their capitalization or the market value of the property, and according to these figures the Birch property of close to twenty acres is worth $2,000,000. The assessed valuation of the property is 40 per cent of the estimated market value, or $800,000.

Allege Assessment Unjust

Birch and his attorneys are attempting to show that this assessment is "unjust, illegal, erroneous and discriminatory" and that Sleeper's method of figuring its values is all wrong. Production, costs, and income records of the company, which are to be brought before the board tomorrow morning, are expected to be enlightening on this point. As yet nothing has been produced to convince the board that Sleeper's method is anything but right.

One of Sleeper's statements, given at the hearing yesterday afternoon, was that enough gas was produced from the Birch property last year to pay its tax bill, which could not be said of any other oil lands in that vicinity.

The board is in session today as a board of supervisors, and will resume the Birch hearing, as a board of equalization tomorrow morning, and on Thursday the Standard is expected to open its fight on its assessment and division of its Murphy tract among the four school districts of Fullerton, La Habra, Buena Park and Orange.

PLANT TO CONDENSE MILK IS DISCUSSED

A meeting of the directors of the California Milk Producers' association was held in Riverside yesterday morning in the farm bureau office for the purpose of talking over the proposed milk condensing plant which the association plans to erect in this city.

J. E. Wherrell and E. L. Williams of Riverside, T. H. Bryce of Artesia, manager of the California Milk Producers' association, W. F. Holt, multimillionaire, of San Fernando and formerly of the Imperial valley, and E. A. Bost of Corona, were the directors present.

Just what move is to be made in the direction of establishing the plant has not definitely been decided on, but it is learned that a plant such as the association would build will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, and be large enough to take care of the future for years.

The concern may be promoted by private capital or it may be promoted by the association. This is the matter yet to be determined. The whole thing is in the hands of the association and it is said there is sufficient money in sight to build such a plant as the association directors believe is needed to take care of the surplus milk.

At present the consumption is close to the production, but it is believed that in a short time the supply will be greatly increased and it is then that a surplus will be on hands and it is this the association proposes to condense.

Paris To Brussels By Air Costs $60 In Huge Plane

Cabin of huge flier "Goliath" and air flier built for one.

YANK BLINDED BY HUN FIENDS BEING TREATED

BALTIMORE, July 15.—Blinded by acid dropped into his eyes at command of a German officer when he refused to give the Germans information concerning the American forces, beaten and starved, Corpl. Edward M. Roberts, Company A, 14th Infantry, is at the Government hospital at Fort McHenry, the victim of the horrible brutality.

He was in command of a raiding party, which left the American trenches in the Toul sector Feb. 8, 1918. It was ambushed by a superior force of Germans and the Corporal, wounded in both hands and a leg, was captured after several of his party were killed and others wounded. When he refused to give the Germans information they sought, he was put through the tortures which left him blinded and maimed. From the time of his capture until he was released after the armistice was signed, he was the victim of studied brutality.

French Company Working Up Good Business; Little Craft Is Made

PARIS, July 15.—The Farman Airplane Company has gone to the extremes. That concern has produced an express airplane de luxe with seats for eight passengers in an enclosed body. The craft makes weekly trips between Paris and Brussels and the fare is $50 a ride. It is called the Goliath. Numerous wealthy persons have made the trip for pleasure and the thrills that are supposed to go with it. Many business men have used it also to make speedy trips between the two cities. A good business has been developed and other similar planes are expected to be put on as the demand warrants such a move.

Then also the same concern is manufacturing an "air flier" which is the smallest thing in airplanes that actually flies. It has a wing spread of only 16 feet and carries a 20-horsepower engine. It costs $800. Several of these little fellows have been purchased by sportsmen who have so far been successful in handling them.

MULE DEALER TRAVELS OVER SEA MANY TIMES

BOSTON, Mass., July 15.—Completing his twenty-second round trip between this country and South Africa, L. J. Hall of Lancaster, N. H., a mule dealer, returned on the British steamship Clan Macmaster. In order to get back to this country Hall was obliged to serve as purser of the steamer, the regular passenger service from South Africa having been suspended some months ago. Last March Hall accompanied a shipment of mules from New York to Africa on a Japanese steamer, but owing to the aversion of the Asiatics to them, he was obliged to attend to them himself, so the passage had no pleasure for him.

VALENCIA CROP FOR NEXT YEAR APPEARS FAIR NOT HEAVY

While Scattered, Setting Here Looks to Be a Very Good Average

While citrus men are not ready to make reports based on careful investigations, it is the general opinion among them that the Orange County Valencia orchards have set a fair average crop of young oranges. The trees are not heavily set, and therefore the crop in prospect for next year is not a normal crop.

"We have come to consider the 1917 crop as a normal crop," said one of the association men today, "and that crop was a heavy crop. So far as we can make estimates from information now on hand, the prospects are that the crop will be somewhat less than normal, yet a very fair crop."

Reports indicate that the setting of young Valencias is scattered. Some of the orchardists say that their trees are heavily set and others say that the June drop hit them severely and that their trees are set lightly.

As a matter of fact, mid-July estimates in the past have often proven erroneous, and for that reason several of the citrus men interviewed declared that they are not yet ready to be quoted, though they are optimistic for a near-normal crop for next year.

Careful Survey Not Made
A careful survey of orchards to strike an average as to what the locality productions in this county will be has not yet been made, and until such a survey is made citrus men are a bit chary about giving positive estimates. The general opinion expressed, however, is strongly to the effect that there is a fair setting of Valencias.

Reports from San Bernardino county are to the effect that the Valencias there, which are only a small portion of the San Bernardino county crop, where navels predominate, are to be probably only fifty per cent of a normal crop. The reason for the light setting is that the Valencias there have suffered not only from a June drop but also from a July drop. Here in Orange county there has been no recent drop, such as some other orange growing sections have gone through.

In this section orange and lemon trees are in good shape. Lemon trees are sending out an abundance of new growth, and the trees are carrying a healthy portion of young fruit.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—"The Messenger" is dead. For fifteen years Christian Krober, 70 years old, of 674 Anador street, carried his banners through the city and preached his simple sermons from the curb stones. But no longer will "The Messenger," as he was termed by his friends, trudge along the pavements with his little signs, "Let Right With God," "Christ is Coming." Late Sunday night, after spending the entire day in prayer, Christian Krober ended his life with chloroform.

SAN DIEGO, July 15.—Major General Joseph E. Kuhn has arrived here from Washington to take command at Camp Kearny. He takes the place held by Brigadier General F. S. Strong, who has been assigned to command the South Pacific Coast Artillery district. General Kuhn said there was every reason to believe that demobilization of the American army would proceed with great rapidity.

VENTURA, July 15.—Affidavits are being taken here to secure the Carnegie medal for Lieutenant Lloyd Rogers, student at Stanford University, who saved 13-year-old Joan Johnstone, daughter of Dr. Emily Johnstone, from drowning Saturday afternoon.

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—Resumption of a pre-war service between Pacific coast points and European ports is contained in the announcement yesterday received at the Chamber of Commerce from the Balfour Guthrie Company that the Harrison direct line S. S. Crown of Toledo will call at Los Angeles July 28, loading freight for Liverpool and London.

TULARE, July 15.—That regulation army flame throwers can be used to good advantage in control of the grasshoppers, particularly in the Tulare district grain fields, is the belief of Lieutenant P. D. Novell, recently returned from service with the A. E. F., who is interesting ranchers of this district in his plan.

SANTA MONICA, July 15.—As the result of resolutions adopted by the city council, an annual entertainment will be staged in Santa Monica to be known as "The Santa Monica Bay District Aerial Circus." It will take place some time within the next three months. One thousand dollars was appropriated by the council, to be used by the Chamber of Commerce, which is launching the entertainment, in support of the project.

PASADENA, July 15.—Sherman Washburn, resident of Pasadena for the last forty-five years and one of its founders, died yesterday at the age of 89 in the house at 46 Valley street, which he built when he settled here, and which he has occupied ever since. Mr. Washburn was one of the most active figures in the upbuilding of Pasadena.

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—Brilliant was the entertainment given at Shrine Auditorium yesterday afternoon, when the local French colony held a victory celebration in commemoration of the Fall of the Bastille. Representatives from all the Allied nations were present.

BRITISH WOMEN'S WORK GIVES SATISFACTION IN FACTORIES OF COUNTRY

LONDON, July 14.—The report of the war cabinet committee on women in industry records the history of a change in the British social and economic system so great that it is described as "an industrial revolution."

The change began in the "nineties" with the development of automatic machinery. This brought women into the machine shops, but in very small numbers, because the rate of pay for women was less than half that of the men.

With the signing of the armistice it was thought that the policy of "equal pay for equal work" would lead employers to give preference to male workers, because of women's supposed physical disabilities, but that view is not supported by experience. Employers in the metal trade declare that for every kind of repetition work they prefer the work of women to that of men.

THE WAR HAS CHANGED ALL THAT. In July, 1914, the number of women employed in metals, machines, etc., was 172,000; during the war it rose to 319,000. The main reason why the change is regarded as an industrial revolution lies in the fact that women's pay for this work has been more than trebled, and they work today on the same footing as men.

BODY OF ORANGE HERO IN GRAVE NEAR PARIS

Otto Rozell Among 900 Americans Buried In One American Cemetery

ORANGE, July 15.—Friends of Otto Rozell will be glad to know that his body is resting in one of the most beautiful spots in France. A little grave-yard, just three miles from Paris, where nine hundred American boys lie, marks the resting place.

This cemetery is a portion of French soil dedicated to the fallen heroes of America. His brother, Vernon Rozell, visited the place, and states that it is "one of the prettiest places he has ever seen." It is constantly a mass of flowers and is cared for by the French people. The hospital record of Otto's death was not, as formerly stated, a shrapnel wound, but is as follows: Death, Otto Rozell, July 27, 1918, 2:45 p. m. Fracture of six ribs; hemorrhage of lower lobe, right lung; Grave 5718.

Public Installation

C. A. Palmer, assisted by his installing staff from Orange, installed the officers of Westminster Lodge, I.O.O.F., at a public installation with the Rebekahs. Mrs. George Peters of Santa Ana, District President, was the installing officer for the Rebekahs. About one hundred and fifty representatives from the different lodges of the district were present. After the installation an excellent banquet was served by the ladies of Westminster.

Tonight the same teams go to Huntington Beach in a joint installation service of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

Honored Soldier

Roy E. Charleston of Anaheim, formerly of Olive, was the honoree at a delightful picnic at the Orange County Park, given by friends of himself and mother. About fifty guests were present, including friends from Fullerton, Orange and Anaheim, also two friends of Mr. Charleston who have been with him for the past year overseas, in the field hospital. After a bounteous feast the jolly party played games and sang.

MARINES LEARN MUCH IN THREE SERVICES

Marines at home serve at naval stations and are drilled in the following duties: Infantry, soldiers, artillerymen, machine gun companies, signaling, range finding, the operating and maintenance of telephone and telegraph lines. In preparation for duties as landing parties from ships of the navy they are further trained in aviation, the use of portable search lights, the wireless telegraph, the heliograph and various other methods of signaling. In foreign ports the Marines protect the lives and interests of Americans.

Marines are trained, clothed and equipped as soldiers of the army. Marines can be told from the army soldier by the insignia they wear—globe, eagle, anchor. This is a three-in-one service—land, sea, sky.

You can enlist and be a marine at the U. S. Marine Corps recruiting station, 107½ East Fourth street, Santa Ana.

General McHale says that Private Gaffney is the second bravest man in the army because he captured eighty Huns. The bravest men in the army were those who were the worst scared and went forward in spite of it.

GARDEN GROVE NEWS

GARDEN GROVE, July 15.—The young people of the Baptist church held a lawn social Friday evening at the home of Mrs. George Tyler. Following a short business session, the evening was spent socially.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. M. M. Castleman Wednesday, July 16, instead of having met last Wednesday, as was erroneously announced. Mrs. Steele will be leader, the subject being "Health a National Asset."

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler and children spent Sunday in Long Beach.

Sunday evening the R. Y. P. U. installed officers for the following year. Rev. A. F. Newcomb, pastor of Ontario Baptist church, was present for the occasion and preached the evening sermon.

Miss Mildred Spain has resumed her position in Hill's store after two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Udaly and son were over-Sunday visitors with the former's sister in Santa Ana.

Mr. Bryson of Los Angeles was guest of G. R. Reyburn Monday.

Many of the Methodists and friends are in attendance at camp meeting at Huntington Beach.

Arley Adams was an over-Sunday visitor at the home of his sister, Mrs. Paul Swartz, at Cordonez.

A near tragedy occurred at the intersection of Euclid and Ocean avenues. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Morford and two sons of Los Angeles were on their way to Balboa to spend the day, when, making the turn from Euclid east on Ocean a Mexican driving a horse and buggy stopped suddenly and without warning. Mrs. Morford, who is an experienced driver, was at the wheel and set the brakes and turned the Overland into a telephone pole to save the Mexican. They were going at such slow speed that no one was injured and a bumper saved the machine from anything worse than a leak in the radiator.

RIVERSIDE FIRST TO USE NEW VOTING LAW

Riverside will probably be the first city in California to hold an election under the new election laws passed at the last session of the California legislature. The laws go into effect July 22.

Most interesting of the changes is the clause which permits election judges to record votes with an indelible pencil. In the past only a pen and ink has been permissible, and much speed has been lost. Now that pencils may be used great haste is to be expected.

The form of the ballots is changed too, in that instead of being bound on the top, they are bound on the left. No numbering or endorsing on the back is permitted, and the columns are reduced from four to three inches in width.

MAN POSTPONES HIS FUNERAL

"I am 66 years old and for past two years have been suffering so badly from stomach and liver troubles, bloating and colic attacks, that I did not expect to live more than a few months and was arranging my affairs and even my funeral. Three doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy have entirely cured me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.

BEES ATTACK FARMER

MILFORD, Del., July 15.—While plowing in a field Howard Webb, son of Elbert Webb, who resides a few miles from Milford, ran the point of his plow into a nest of bees and was attacked by a swarm of bees and rendered unconscious by them. He will recover, the doctors say.

FULLERTON MAN DIES SUDDENLY YESTERDAY

Al V. Smith Expires While Talking to One of His Neighbors

FULLERTON, July 15.—Al V. Smith, a pioneer resident of Fullerton and one of the best known and most popular men in Orange county, dropped dead of heart failure yesterday morning at the home of A. M. Edwards, a neighbor, where he had gone for a few minutes' visit.

Mr. Smith had been downtown, returning to his home shortly after 9 o'clock. Later he went over to the Edwards home and it was while talking to Mrs. Edwards on the walk leading to the house that he expired.

He seemed to be in unusually good spirits and during the short conversation before the end came so suddenly he told Mrs. Edwards how well he felt and that he would be extremely careful for a month or so, when he would regain his health. He had undergone a medical examination recently and was told that he had heart trouble and was cautioned to be careful of any overwork or undue excitement.

Mr. Smith had just finished telling Mrs. Edwards that he was taking the best of care of himself, when he leaned forward, placing his hands upon his knees and gasping a faint "Oh!" he sank gently to the ground and immediately expired.

Resident Since Boyhood

Deceased had resided in Fullerton since he was a boy and always had been active in affairs of the city and county. At one time he was a member of the board of trustees of the city, and could have held office at any time he desired, but he cared very little for office.

During the different Liberty Loan campaigns during the war he was a member of the loan committee and besides being a very large subscriber himself was instrumental in inducing many others to subscribe large amounts.

Besides his wife, Mr. Smith leaves three sons, Raymond, Leland and Virgil, and a stepson, Donald Munger. Leland Smith is on his way home from France, it not being known at present just where he is, but the last letter received from him he stated that he expected to be home this month.

He also leaves three brothers, C. E., F. M. and W. J. Smith, all of Fullerton, besides three sisters, one residing at Ramona, one at Visalia, and one, Mrs. Clark, in Los Angeles. A daughter of the latter, Miss Norma Clark, resides here, she being one of the proprietors of the Vogue Shoppe. She is at Bear Lake on her vacation and word has been sent to her.

On account of the fact that it was known Mr. Smith had heart trouble, there will probably be no inquest.

FINANCES OF SALINAS ARE CUT BY DRY LAW

SALINAS, July 15.—Prohibition has hit the finances of Salinas, says Mayor G. A. Daugherty. In a message to the city council the mayor stated the city will lose 40 cents on the $100 of its annual revenue through the elimination of saloons which paid $400 per year license fee. The loss must be made up by an increase in the city tax levy.

SAN FRANCISCO FOLKS REFUSE TO STAY DRY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—San Francisco is running on in the same wicked old way. She hasn't reformed a bit since the dry law went into effect.

Clubs, cafes and even saloons are packed nightly. The bright lights are just as bright and burn longer as there is now no 2 a. m. official closing time, as technically there are no cafes or saloons. The clubs are serving hard-ware to members behind closed doors. The saloons (?) are serving 5 per cent beer in bottles without labels. The cafes supply the seltzer—the rounders carry the "kick" on their hip.

MUMBLING BABY SAVES LIFE OF LITTLE ONE

Leads Mother to Where Child Was Drowning In a Catch Basin

ANAHEIM, July 15.—It is not a frequent occurrence to have a two-year-old child instrumental in saving the life of a still younger child.

However just such a thing happened in Anaheim only a few days ago.

Marion, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Choat of 615 South Lemon street, corner of Santa Ana, ran to her mother and mumbled something to which the mother paid no attention until the child tried by tugging at her apron to pull the mother toward the corner of the streets. Out of curiosity Mrs. Choat allowed herself to be led by the child to the corner and on looking through the grating of a catch basin to her astonishment saw a mere baby struggling in the water, which was some four feet deep.

Mrs. Choat called to Wayne Horner, of 521 South Lemon, who was near by, and with his assistance managed to get the baby out of the water. The child proved to be Kenneth Nosler, 21 months old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Nosler, of 611 South Lemon street, and it gave no signs of life when rescued. The mother was at once notified and the baby was resuscitated in a few minutes.

Had it not been for the two-year-old Marion Choat this little babe of Mr. and Mrs. Nosler would have been drowned and Anaheim would have had a tragedy to answer for, because there is no natural drainage here for flood waters and a storm water drainage system would cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, and catch basins must be maintained.

Unfortunately the protecting rods to this catch basin had been knocked out and portions of the grating which covers it had been removed by children, leaving it in a dangerous condition and the Nosler child had been playing on the grating, probably, and had rolled in.

FINANCES OF SALINAS ARE CUT BY DRY LAW

SALINAS, July 15.—Prohibition has hit the finances of Salinas, says Mayor G. A. Daugherty. In a message to the city council the mayor stated the city will lose 40 cents on the $100 of its annual revenue through the elimination of saloons which paid $400 per year license fee. The loss must be made up by an increase in the city tax levy.
